ABOUT THE NATIONAL SUMMIT

The National Summit on Mass Incarceration and Social Justice is where impact and transformation converge. This event is a hub for cutting-edge teaching, training, and the latest best practices, aimed at educating, equipping, empowering, and encouraging pastors, clergy, laity, and those impacted by the criminal justice system to embody the mission of Jesus.

For more than a decade, this biennial summit serves as a clarion call and has equipped nearly four thousand faith leaders, advocates, justice impacted citizens and all who are dedicated to mass incarceration, criminal justice and correctional reform, prison ministry, reentry and reintegration efforts, restorative justice, racial, social justice, and family reunification.

A vital initiative of SBC21's Office of Social Justice, Mass Incarceration, and Transformation, this program partners with national and ecumenical organizations, UM Agencies and non-profits to persons with the tools necessary to amplify and strengthen their work and their impact on justice and justice-involved citizens.

Returning in 2024, the Summit will delve even deeper by bringing together thought leaders and practitioners offering real-time best practices, resources, and networking opportunities for attendees to effect immediate change and transformation in their communities

“The National Prison Summit was like healing medicine to a wound, food to the soul, everyone needs to be there. It can help you heal pain and move to the next level.”

Sebastian Goodson, 25-year prison veteran,
Special Assistant to the CEO at Exodus
Foundation.org

“The SBC21 National Summit - Restoration, Redemption & ReEntry Conference had a great impact on me as the speakers revealed they too had been incarcerated. They showed us how to get where they are. It gave me hope”

Darrell Cook (14 year prison veteran)
